1. Introduction

1.1 General

This publication presents the membership of Croatian Register of Shipping at IACS. This society (CRS) has entered into IACS as a member from 2011.May.03. In this circular a brief history of this society and its status in case of associate membership at IACS has been prepared.

2. CRS membership in IACS

2.1 Historical Background

CRS is a heritor of ship classification activities at the eastern Adriatic coast.

The Austrian Veritas was founded in this area, already in 1858, as the third classification society in the world.

In 1918 the Austrian Veritas changed its name into the Adriatic Veritas and was acting as such till year 1921.

CRS, acting till 1992 as JR (Yugoslav Register of Shipping), was founded in 1949.

CRS Head Office is situated in Split, Republic of Croatia. CRS was associated member of International Association of Classification Societies (IACS) from 1973.till 2004.

31 Dec 2004 Croatian Register of Shipping (Hrvatski Register Radovan, formerly Jugoslavenski Registar) left the Association as part of the phase-out of the Associate status.

CRS from May 2011 gained the status of IACS member.

IACS welcomes the Croatian Register of Shipping (CRS) as a new member, having satisfied the membership criteria adopted in October 2009.

Mr. N Ueda, the Chairman of IACS, accepted CRS's application on 3rd May and announced that the members of IACS are pleased that CRS has joined and look forward to their active participation and contribution to the work of IACS.

IACS is committed to high standards and quality and CRS has demonstrated their commitment to these principles through their satisfaction of the Associations membership criteria.

2.2 Status

CRS is an independent, not for profit but common welfare oriented, public foundation performing:

- classification of ships;
- statutory certification of ships on behalf of the national Maritime Administrations;
- statutory certification of Marine Equipment;
- statutory certification of recreational crafts;
- Certification / registration of quality management systems.
